

You are interested in innovative technologies and entrepreneurial adventure?

Looking for a business creation project with a strong social and solidarity nature?

SATT Paris-Saclay is looking for the future co-founder of Joka Jobs start-up which will allow to valorize a technology designed to support low job experienced young people (<30) return to work. It is a mobile app that is particularly suited to the search for job, internship, work-study, training or civic service, in France at first and soon abroad.

Your mission? Prepare the creation and the development plan of the start-up: validate applications and markets, build the business model, formalize the business plan, define the financial strategy, etc.

JOKA JOBS

#MobileApp

#Game

#JobSearch

Innovation

► Thanks to its design in the form of a serious game, its geolocation function and its smartphone compatibility, Joka Jobs technology encourages jobseekers to increase their mobility, breaks down barriers in the search for work and helps build a network between jobseekers and recruiters in order to facilitate access to jobs.

Discover the project

////////// An enabling environment for the start-up development

— A committed technical partner

This technology is developed at Telecom Paris by Dana Diminescu, a sociologist and research teacher.

This project is funded by SATT Paris-Saclay.

— Working with SATT Paris Saclay

SATT Paris-Saclay business model is based on a virtuous mechanism of sharing the revenues generated by the exploitation of research results. The start-up will benefit from an exclusive licence in return for the payment of reduced royalties (% of turnover) and the acquisition of shares in the capital.

////////// Joka Jobs project assets

- A tool based on years of research on access to employment and mobility issues
- An app already available on Apple Store and Google Play
- A tested and approved technology with public actors in job search and major industrial groups
- A suited solution to the French government plan "1 young, 1 solution"